Journal Entry: 2 weeks ago

I got the call yesterday. It will be airing September 16th at 4:00 PM Eastern Standard time on the channel known as the "CW". I'm very excited, and considering it was such a fast process I feel that they didn't edit anything out on context.

We will be the VERY FIRST part of the show, just so you know. You won't have to wait through all the commercials to see it.

Spread the word :3

I'm skeptical. Tyra Banks seems like an attention getting show, more along the lines of Ricky Lake than say, a broadcast which would hold more credulity. Here's hoping, though.

He went on the Tyra Banks show and told her how he's a furry and has sex in a fursuit, and then explained how...he was representing the entire fandom and that just makes the CSI episode even more realistic in everyone else's eyes.

Okay, I get that you're a bit slow, so I'll explain this carefully:

She appeared on a show, that was advertised as and WAS... ABOUT SEX. From day fuckin' one, they knew this was a bad idea if they had half a brain.

Furry has had bad moments in the press before, but few and far between were moments endorsed by actual furies. There was CSI, but CSI -was fiction-. We can at least say "Oh, well REAL furies aren't like that!!"

These were real furies. Real, stupid as hell furies.

We don't have much to fall back on now.

Reply to this post

Osenso

(No Subject) Posted: an hour ago

Again... so? Remember tumbles the stair dragon? or Sibe? with all them mental issues? I'm sure this can't top all the previous hate furies have drawn from external forces. I just really don't think one should hate someone in the first place for simple ignorance.

Reply to this post

(No Subject) Posted: half-an-hour ago

SIMPLE IGNORANCE?

God, I knew you were slow in the head, but not THIS slow.

How stupid do you have to be to show up representing furies as a whole on a show about SEX on TV and talk about humping in fursuits? Do we even have units to measure that kind of stupid? This is not simple ignorance. Chewfox and her "mate" are fucking assholes. They both knew exactly what they were doing to the reputation of furies, but they didn't care about what people thought of them personally, so they just assumed the right to speak for all of us.

They're sitting there, laughing, on a pile of money right now. I just know it. Why the FUCK are you defending them?

Reply to this post

Osenso

(No Subject) Posted: half-an-hour ago

I'm not defending just those two furies, im defending the entire fandom, so what if sabby is a beast fur, or dragoneer has an incest fetish, i wouldnt hate them for it.. and that ish why i post :3

Reply to this post

Khaz(No Subject)* Posted: half-an-hour ago

Because smart people keep their fucking fetishes in their bedrooms and among their closest friends?

You don't go out and broadcast that crap to the rest of the world. But hey, that much is their choice. What ISN'T right is that they go and do this ON BEHALF OF THE FURRY FANDOM. They not ONCE give any indication that other furries don't share their kinks.

I don't have sex in fursuit, hell I don't even OWN one. But now everyone thinks I do. I'm just counting the days until my parents catch wind of this episode, and call me. They know I'm a furry. I worried about this exact shit the day I told them, and bingo, here it is, exactly what I feared.

Now that I have actually seen what the fuss is about, I can say that you really should have been careful not to mislead the audience into believing that ALL furries have sex in fursuits. That's the main problem here. If you wanted so badly to ridicule yourself on TV, that's your business, but dragging the entire furdome with you is the main reason why everyone's pissed off at you right now.

Do you at least understand that?

Hahaha, maybe an intervention from Dr. Phil is in order. I'd love to hear him talk about intercourse in animal suits with that Texan drawl.

Though her next appearance will probably be during the Chat Stew segment of The Soup this Friday in truncated, clip form. There's NO WAY it can't at least be a strong contender for an appearance on The Soup. This is the kind of weird stuff custom-tailored for mocking by Joel McHale, AND it's from Tyra, which has always been a favorite of the writers for that show. :b

Dr Phil tries to make people normal, he'd probably stop by a furcon or the site (or have his researchers do so), figure out that most of us are totally unlike her, and basically have an abbreviated version of what happened on her journal happen on air, in person, with him doing all the explaining/yelling.

True, but then again--this is not about the other shows. This is a woman who took a leap in representing a group of people who really didn't want her to represent us.

I mean, I have no problem with her doing what she does behind closed doors, but it just doesn't seem right when she steps up and makes us look even more horrible than before. xD

I just wish she did this whole thing differently. Saying things like "Not all are into this but my mate and I--" kind of things. She kind of just generalized it :C It's bad, j00 know?

Reply to this post

chameleon

(No Subject) Posted: half-an-hour ago

Um... no. This IS about the other shows. Because ALL THOSE PEOPLE took that exact SAME leap. So what she generalized it. Most the people on this site fap to furry porn, and that is BASICALLY THE SAME THING, just not ballsy enough to do the shit IRL. Yeah, its gross as fuck to me, but calling her and her husband sick disgusting people like some ppl here are doing, or blaming HER for the bad image of furry is bullshit. From the guy who runs fursuit sex porn site, to Cuddles the stair dragon or whatever his name is, hundreds of furries have made furries look bad, and if you don't like it, don't call yourself a furry, simple as that.

No, the problem is the simple fact that people who otherwise would not of known of "furrys" now have a stereotypical definition as to what "furry" is. Further, its been refreshed in peoples minds that fursuits are more commonly associated with this type of trash than not. If your not a suiter who performs in public and has to deal with this shit, than you, in all probability *wouldn't* understand. This type of thing makes a HUGE difference when you wanna have a fursuit outing at, lets say, a bowling alley or some other public venue where the manager or decision maker has seen this crap on TV.

I'm a suiter and in no way shape or form do any of the shit she talked about, nor do I have an interest in it. I don't appreciate having to do damage control with the contacts and people I know just because someone couldn't keep their kinks in the bedroom.

I wear a fursuit to act silly and make people smile. Now anyone who watched that show is going to see, omg he's a furry, and related my fursuit to sex. I don't care that some furs decide to have sex in their fursuits, but because of you, anyone who saw that show thinks that's the only definition of a furry - that all of us have fursuits and our only purpose in this fandom is to have fursuit sex. GOOD GOING IDIOTS.

Now all the lowbrow asshats are going to be checking my suit for a hole in the crotch wondering if I'm a sexual deviant. Thanks a lot.

I just watched the video and I can see that you really did have good intentions and you tried really hard to represent the fandom in a positive light..... But you went on the Tyra Bank show. The whole show is based on dramatization similar to The Jerry Springer which makes people feel better about themselves by show-casing people who are stereotypically unaccepted. So, basically, you tried to teach people about furies in a lion-ring. They didn't want to hear about the fandom; they just wanted to see how weird furies and fursuiters are.

Frankly, all that needed to happen was a post to artists beware if it was so bad. The TOS are there for a reason, and what Dragoneer did was very poor admin-ing. If he starts banning people for shit they do that he or other people don't like, whos to say he doesn't ban all the babyfurs, or all the vores, or this or that? I mean, granted, it doesnt count for him because hes pretty much a disgusting perv anyway, but would that give me the right to ban anyone from the site were i the admin, if i didn't like what they did?

He should be banning everyone who was ever reported on artists_beware@LJ, in that case.

You could have said "Not all furies are like this" or "Some furies just like the artwork" etc

But no, you said "All furies have an inner animal" and "All fursuiters dress up to have sex in their costumes"

Again, way to set back this sub-culture 10+ years

The entire sexuality of the furry fandom is entirely anti-feminist

1) Aticston when she was a herm dragoness was a fucking -JOKE- character I ran around with, and to which -EVERYONE ELSE- fucking loved, but I didn't particularly like but it got the most positive reactions out of people

2) I made the bat form because I wanted to get away from that, and still try to make a sexy character. And I also wanted to try and be semi-original if you can call it that and make a huge boobed bat as everyone draws bats as super thin athletic creatures

3) I only run around as Aticston when I am -GOOFING OFF- as in just trying to relax and have fun being a idiot online, anyone and everyone that knows me personally knows I don't pretend to ever be Aticston, I talk to them as a human being and use my real name with them

4) All my friends have known me for -YEARS- the only part of furries I am really attracted too is the body and breasts of the characters, and I block out the muzzle/tails etc when looking at pictures, I spend more time looking at a characters eyes then the furry aspect of it

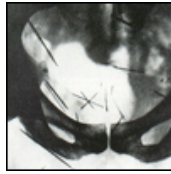

5) All my friends I talk with I've not once traded furry porn with, any time I talk about porn I talk about -REAL- porno's, and its all I share and talk about online with friends when talking about porno

6) Furry takes up maybe 5% of my day, as I spend most of my time talking about videogames and anime online then I do spend it talking about furries. I am infact logged right now into 1 furry chat, 3 videogame chats and browsing the videogame section of 4chan

7) If you wanted to claim I have an addiction to drawn things, I collect -WAY- more hentai then I do furry artwork

I've never spent a -CENT- on furry art, or comissions etc

Everything in my gallery is drawings -FRIENDS- have done for me over the years

You know, FRIENDS? Nice people that do nice things?

Not that you would know anything of it, I just saw your profile myself, and all you are doing is outright trolling

See, the difference between this person and Chewfox is that Chewfox decided to go on national TV and tell everyone how furries fuck in animal suits.

This person has done no such thing to my knowledge.

Thank you for completely ruining any chance I have of continuing to entertain and teach children at the hospital because they know I'm a furry.

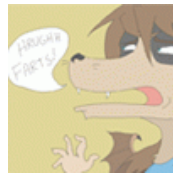

Thank you. This does WONDERS for my attitude and hopes.

Tact? Integrity? Simple decency? Obviously too much to expect of someone like you.

It was bad enough after the CSI episode, but no, this is someone who is a REAL furry doing all the damage now.

Well at least I'll have a lot more time off now that I'll be unable to do any more volunteering. *sigh*

Why the fuck do any of you care about the opinions of people who watch the Tyra Banks Show?

Do you think this is the first time something like this has happened? Ever heard of the Vanity Fair piece or CSI?

Why are so many of you so afraid of having to explain for yourself what furies are to people you feel don't understand?

Guess what? It's pretty easy. If someone asks then you say, "No, most furies don't fuck in costumes. It's like Trekkies; like 2% of them fuck in costume. It's a roleplay thing, and just a little odd. Personally I don't like to think about it."

I don't care if you make fursuits; keep making them, and explain yourself to people if they look at you askance. I don't care if your whole family knows you're a furry; explain to them that those people on TV are just out to make money. I don't care if you work as a freelance mascot costumer; just lie and say you've heard of furies but aren't sure what they are but you aren't one.

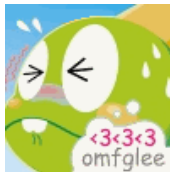

If this is the biggest hardship you have to deal with in your life then you're lucky. And, I repeat, why the fuck do any of you care about the opinions of people who watch the Tyra Banks Show?

I mainly care because most people who watch tyra are mothers. Nothing like watching kids held back from the evil sex furs playing in the park.

Now that I have actually seen what the fuss is about, I can say that you really should have been careful not to mislead the audience into believing that ALL furies have sex in fursuits. That's the main problem here. If you wanted so badly to ridicule yourself on TV, that's your business, but dragging the entire furdom with you is the main reason why everyone's pissed off at you right now.

Do you at least understand that?

You didn't misrepresent, the show did that for you, pinning all of the blame on you and your partner -,-

Tyra Banks was very ignorant of the whole subject and asked the questions in a seemingly harsh way, to appeal to the audience... The whole thing turned out to be a bad idea, but not to say you didn't handle it well. The circumstances you were given by the whole show SUCKED

"Everyone bitching here is dumb as hell. Tyra isn't Oprah, she doesn't matter in the grand scheme of things. I'ma let you finish but Stairdragon was the best furry drama of all time."

I dunno, I was laughing pretty freaking hard. My buddy literally fell out of his chair laughing. I don't mean some metaphor for his sides splitting, I mean he literally fell out of his chair. He bent over laughing, so much so that his center of gravity was no longer over the chair and he slipped to the floor.

I am actually kind of glad an idiot did something like this, now hear me out! Could you imagine what would happen if being a Furry became mainstream? Must I bring up what happened to anime and the goth and punk style of dressing? I am actually glad that we had a complete moron shove the fandom further underground.

Just to let you know were all not like you. You should really try thinking before acting next time. This will undoubtedly ruin whatever rep you have. tyra banks is a bitch but for some reason you decided to go on her show Thinking it was gonna help and now we have to suffer for it. Your weight stereotyped us even further. We're now all gonna be fat ugly perverts that fuck in costumes and get sexually aroused at disneyland. congrats you god damn shit bag. I hope i see you at a con so I can laugh at how fat and retarded you are for being so stupid and greedy. You got a free trip didn't you? enjoy your free vacation at the cost of all of the fandom you greedy little fuck.

Just because I like the term so much I'll just go down here and say my last insult: You cheeky little fuck!
